CAROLINA COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE. second Annual Commencement-A Large Attendance and a Highly Creditable Exhibition.

The Second Annual Commencement of the deservedly popular educational institute in our midst came off last week, and was highly satisfactory and gratifying to its patrons and friends.

The cause of co-education of the sexes has no reason to be otherwise than proud of the experiment being made in this institution, for so far it has been a vindication of the propriety and advantage of such a system of instruction. The graceful deportment and the evident intellectual advancement evinced by the pupils upon these commencement occasions are higher encomiums upon the worth and success of the college than any remarks from us would be, and to be fully appreciated should be witnessed. At this commencement there was nothing of the estentatious display incident to many of our college commencements, which, if not intended to do so, most certainly do attract the attention of their visitors from close attention to the attainments of the students. thereby securing a favorable opinion where it might not otherwise have been bestowed. The exercises were marked throughout by an entire absence of display, and whatever of merit was seen emanated from the culture and attainments of the students.

THE DECORATIONS of the hall were simple, yet beautiful and appropriate. The centennial decoration upon the rear of the stage was happily conceived and tastefully executed, consisting of two flags of our nation floating above the proud motto "Omnia pro honore," and a shield upon which our State emblem, the palmetto tree, was represented. Upon the left of the shield was the historic date "1776," while the right commemorated our present centennial year by the figures "1876," while miniature flags of many nations and States were grouped around. Upon the left of the stage and in front was the badge of mourning and the words "In Menoriam" arranged above a lyre, which brought up sad memories of one who was gone from a sphere of usefulness in which she was loved and appreciated by all. Over the front of the stage was "Carolina Collegiate Institute," circling over a hive with its busy swam of bees, beneath which was "Industry." Over the right of the stage was "Carpe diem. Tempus fugit." Upon the left side of the hall was "The roots of education are bitter, the fruits are sweet," and on the right the motto "Nil arduum mortalibus, perseverentia omnia vincimus" appeared. In the rear and over the entrance door was "Dum spiro spero," and beneath the emblematic anchor. The effect of these decorations was very pretty, and displayed much taste in their selection and arrangement. THE MUSIC was furnished on each of the three evenings by the Anderson Cornet Band in front of the University building and also in the Chapel hall. Their music was much enjoyed by those present, and the members of the band are entitled to the thanks of the community, for their services during the coment exercises were gratuitous. Those present also enjoyed much very fine music upon the violin, accompanied by the piano, on every evening, contributed by Mrs. and Miss Pinkind, ladies of splendid musical attainments. This portion of the commencement was highly appreciated, and formed quite an important addition to its

the Institution, Prof. W. J. Ligon, President of the Faculty, Prof. A. C. Laughlin and Rev. D. E. Frierson, together with the young ladies who were to read compositions, occupied seats upon the stage, and the students introduced the exercises of the evening by the hymn "Nearer my God to Thee," after which Rev. D. E. Frierson offered a short, beautiful and fervent prayer for the Institution and its students. Extracts were spoken by Dudley Reed, Clement Brown, Henry Glenn, Robert Clark, J. R. Smith, jr., John A. Towers, George M. Tolly, James E. Sadler, Willie C. Bewley, Hammond Wilcox, Lucius Featherston, James Lomax, J. P. Reed, jr., Nimrod B. Sullivan and Ernest Brown.

Compositions were read as follows: Miss Mamie E. Towers, subject-"Beauties of Nature." Miss. Victoria Catlett, subject-"Re it ever so humble, there is no place like home." Miss Hattie A. Brown, subject-"True charity is a plant divinely nursed." Miss Ida C. Bewley, subject—"Vanity of human grandeur." Miss Mattie E. Towers, subject-"Power of example." Miss Johnnie V. Spear, subject-"Touches of time." Miss Maggie L. Brown, subject-"The duty of being prepared to meet the claims of society." Miss Stark Bellotte, subject-"Unseen flowers." Miss Lizzie Tolly, subject-"God revealed in nature." These compositions were highly creditable to their authors, and were read with a distinctness and ease of manner rarely to be met with. Each of these young ladies deserves a congratulation for her success on this occasion. THE CHARADES given on Thursday and Friday nights, by a portion of the students, for the purpose of now the editor of the Blackville News. His raising funds to supply needed furniture and so forth for the Institution, were quite successful, and made about one hundred and twenty dollars. They showed considerable stage talent on the part of some of the students, and afforded much amusement to those present. An appreciation of them was testified by the presence of about three hundrad persons on each evening.

The performance on Thursday night consisted of a representation of "Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works—Part I; the charade, "A Young Amazon," and a recitative piece, "The Mission of the Spirits."

On Friday night it consisted of Part II of "Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works," the fairy drama of "Beauty and the Beast," "a German Student's Convention," rendered by the German class, including songs and extracts by different members of the German class. The exercises of the evening closed with a chorus sung by the whole school, and thus the commencement and its incidents ended to the delight of the visitors, and doubtless to the satisfaction of the scholars, who will indulge in a vacation of some weeks during this hot weather. We hope the Institutian may have many recurrences of this occasion, and that it will begin its next session with increased numbers and increased interest on the part of its BRIEF MENTION.

We received a very fine one year old beet as nearly round, and weighed 131 pounds.

Mr. E. W. Byrum sent to our office last reek an Irish potato weighing 23 ounces. It was an unusually large potato, and heads the list for weight in this County so far as we have heard. Orion Lodge, I. O. G. T., will have a pic nic at Mt. Bethel Church on the 1st Saturday in August, and Dr. W. G. Browne, Mr. G. F. Tolly and Dr. C. V. Barnes are expected o make speeches.

Messrs, G. E. Brown and J. J. Fretwell returned home on Monday last from an extensive tour in the North, which included a glimpse at the Centennial, Niagara Falls, and many prominent cities.

Sam Williams, colored, from Belton, was shot in the leg with buck shot in a difficulty with a white man named John Wilson, at Donnaldsville, on last Tuesday. Wilson has not been arrested.

We regret to announce the death of a little on of Mr. John H. Hembree, which occurred on the 12th inst., after a brief illness. The funeral services were performed by Rev. D. L. Whitaker, and the remains interred on the 13th inst.

We are requested to announce that Mr. W. W. Russell will install the officers of Neal's Creek Grange on Friday (to-morrow) norning, at 10 o'clock. The members of he Grange are requested to be present. There will be a Grange dinner, and a very leasant day may be expected.

A train is now running from Walhalla to andy Springs, and in a few days it is expected that the break between Anderson and Pendleton will be repaired, when the regular trains will be resumed, making the onnection at the Broadaway trestle. A large amount of timber has been taken to Broadaway, and we learn that the re-building of the trestle will be pushed forward

We are pained to record the death of Mr. W. L. Cornog, an esteemed citizen of Hart County, Ga., which occurred on the 26th ult., in the 34th year of his age. He was a varm-hearted, genial gentleman, and greatly respected wherever he was known. He was an active, influential citizen of our neighboring State, and was much endeared to numerous friends and acquaintances in South Carolina.

We regret to learn that our friend, Mr. D. H. Glenn, who resides in the neighborhood of Fair Play, met with a terrible accident last week in running a thresher, by which one of his arms was caught in the nachinery, and so terribly lacerated that amputation above the elbow was necessary. Dr. J. B. Browne performed the operation, and at last accounts Mr. Glenn was doing as well as could be expected.

We are indebted to Mr. John H. Clarke Secretary of the Anderson Bee Company, for a nice specimen of honey, taken from one of his patent hives. These hives are a great improvement upon the old style, the honey being extracted without breaking the comb, and with little trouble. Mr. Clarke took twenty-four pounds from oneshive. Mr. Clarke will take pleasure in showing the advantages of this hive over the old plan. Give him a call.

Little Baylis, oldest child of Mr. D. S. Maxwell, of this place, came near being killed one day last week by an infuriated cow. He was at Mr. B. F. Crayton's on a visit, and in attempting to pass through the lot was pursued by the cow, which caught him at the fence and tossed him over her pleasures.

THE BLACKVILLE NEWS.

Our young friend, T. D. Kennedy, Esq., has embarked again in journalism, and is salutatory appeared last week, and gives evidence that his ready pen will be wielded strong as ever in the cause of justice, truth and right. His principles are uncompromisingly Democratic, and the News will make a valiant fight in the present campaign against demagoguery and thievery. The paper has already been greatly improved, and its proprietors will do everything in their power to make it a first-class country newspaper. Barnwell County ought to give our young friend a cheerful and adequate support, and we take pleasure in recommending him to the good citizens of that

Messes, Editors: A communication over from Mr. J. G. Cartee on last Friday. 1t the signature of "A Democrat" appears in a late number of the Intelligencer, addressed to Messrs. Simpson, Orr and myself, in which the writer makes the enquiry, if again nominated by the Democracy of the County, would we be willing to serve another term in the Legislature? In reply for myself, I would state that I onsider that nominations should be neither ought, nor in a crisis like the present, declined by any man in the County; that I have delayed an answer to the enquiry of A Democrat," in order that I might first scertain, if possible, the actual wishes of the people. That I am now satisfied that it is the wish of a large majority of the voters of the County that I should again be a candidate, and being assured of this fact, I accept the nomination.

With many thanks to "A Democrat" for his kind solicitude in my behalf, as well as to those Democratic Clubs who have so far honored me as to place my name prominently before the people, I can only say, if again honored by your suffrages, that I will in the future, as I have tried to do in the past, support such measures as I believe will best promote the true interest of all classes of the State. I will go out and confer with the people when the canvass opens, but shall rely on my record.

BRIEFLETS OF STATE NEWS.

Gov. Perry has written a long letter to the Greenville News, announcing his opposition to primary elections.

Judge Northrop has decided to make Spartanburg his temporary home. Newberry will be disappointed at this judicial Marion has the first white barber shop ever opened within its corporate limits. Such an institution in Anderson would be well patronized. Col. H. T. Peake, so long and favorably nnected with the railroad interests of South Carolina, has recently left the State to take a position on the Texas and Pacific Railroad. Primary elections are becoming popular among the Democrats throughout the State, and a large number of counties will nominate their candidates for county offices by this system.

the primary election in Pickens County will take place on Friday, 18th of August. The adoption of this system, says the Sentinel, will make the Democracy of Pickens five hundred votes stronger in November. Col. J. S. to be derived from such a programme. So he at once commenced to seek Jesus in the par-don of his sins, and found Him in the condon of his sins, and found Him in the conversion of his soul to be altogether lovely, and the chiefest among ten thousand Bro. Gary joined the Baptist Church at Enon, in Pickens County, S. C., on the 28th day of July, 1858. He was an ornament to his church from the day he joined it, up to the August term of his church, when he was licensed to exercise his gift in public by prayer, exhortation or otherwise, as he might choose. The church became satisfied he was a man of more than ordinary talent, and concluded to call a presbytery preparatory to his ordination. The presbytery consisted of Brethren James Wilson, of Anderson County and W. B. Singleton, and John Arial, of Pickens. They met at Enon Arial, of Pickens. TILDEN AND REFORM.

The Announcement Committee Wait upon Gov. Tilden—He Accepts the Nomination,

The committee appointed by the St. Louis Convention to inform Gov. Tilden of his nomination for the office of Presilent of the United States met in New York on the 12th inst., and proceeded to the discharge of the duty imposed upon them. The committee visited Gov. Tilden at his private residence in the city of New York, and were courteously welcomed by Mr. W. T. Pelton, the private secretary of the Governor, who formally presented them to Mr. Tilden. He was personally acquainted with very many of the committee, and after a short time spent in social converse, the business of he visit was finally announced by Gen. McClernand, the chairman of the comnittee, who outlined the work of the St. Louis Convention, and stated that the committee appointed to wait upon him were present to perform a grateful service, and inder its instructions he presented the following communication, which was read by the secretary of the committee, Mr. J. D. Harris, of Florida: ADDRESS OF THE COMMITTED NEW YORK CITY, July 11.

Governor Sam'l. J. Tilden:
SIR: The undersigned, a committee of the National Democratic Convention which met at the City of St. Louis, Mo., on the 28th ult., consisting of its President, and of one delegate from each State of the Federal Union, have been intrusted with the pleasant duty of waiting upon and informing you of your nomination by that body as the candidate of the Democratic party for the Presidency of the United States at the ensuing elec-

It is a source of great satisfaction to us, who but reflect the opinions of the mem-bers of the convention, that a gentleman entertaining and boldly advocating as you do and have done, those great meas-ures of national and State reform, which are an absolute necessity for the restora-tion of the national honor, prosperity and credit, should have been selected as our standard-bearer in the approaching contest. Your name is identified with the all-absorbing question of reform, reduc-tion of taxes and the maintenance of the ights of the laboring masses.

The Democracy, in designating you as their chosen leader, do not feel that they are relying merely upon your pledges or promises of what you will do in the event your election; your record of the past our guarantee of your future course. "Having been faithful over a few things we will make you a ruler over many Accompanying this letter of notification, we also present you with the declar-ation of principles adopted by the con-vention. We have no doubt that you will recognize in this declaration measures of political policy which immediately con-cern the happiness and welfare of the entire people of this country, and we feel that your election to the Presidency will be a guarantee to their success, and it will be as much your pleasure to enforce and maintain them, if elected, as it was ours to give them the stamp of national representative approbation and approval in their adoption. Entertaining the hope that you will signify to us your accep-tance of the nomination which we have tendered you, and that you concur with the convention in their declaration of servants, JOHN A. McCLERNAND,

GOV. TILDEN'S REPLY. The following is Gov. Tilden's response in full:

Jen. McClernand, and Gentlemen of the

I shall, at my earliest convenience prepare and transmit to you a formal accepance of the nomination which you now ender me, in behalf of the Democratic National Convention; and I do not desire, on this occasion, to anticipate any topic which might be appropriate to that communication. It may, however, be permitted to me to say my nomination tween eminent citizens of this Republic. who might very well have been chosen for so distinguished an honor, and so august a duty. It was rather a declara-tion of that illustrious body in whose behalf you speak in favor of administrative reform, with which events had associated me in the public view. The strength, the universality and the efficiency of the demand for administrative reform in all governments, and especially in the adnistration of the Federal Government, with which the Democratic masses every where were instinct, have led to a series of surprises in the popular assemblage and perhaps in the convention itself. It would be unnatural, gentlemen, if a popular movement so genuine and so power-ful should stop with 3,600,000 of Demo-crats; that it should not extend by conagion to that large mass of independent voters who stand between parties in our country, and even to the moderate portion of the party under whose administration the evils to be corrected have grown up, and perhaps in what we have witness there may be an augury in respect to what we may witness in the election about to take place throughout our country. least let us hope so, and believe so. not without experience of the difficulty and labor of effecting administrative reform, when it requires a revolution in policies and in measures long established in government. If I were to judge by the year and a half in which I have be in the State Government, I should say that the routine duties of the trust I have had imposed on me are a small burden compared with that created by the attempt to change the policy of the Gov-ernment of which I have been the executive head. Especially is this so where the reform is to be worked out with more or less of the co-operation of public offi-cers who either have been tainted with the evils to be redressed, or who have been incapacitated by the habit of tolerating the wrongs to be corrected to which they have been consenting witnesses. I therefore if your choice should be ratified by the people at the election, should en-ter upon the great duties which would fall upon me, not as a holiday recreation, but very much in that spirit of consecra tion in which the soldier enters battle Applause.] But let us believe, as I do believe, that we now see the dawn of a better day for our country, and that diffi-cult is the work to which the Democratic party, with many allies, former members of other parties, has addressed itself, the Republic is yet to be renovated to live in all the future, and to be transmitted to succeeding generations as Jefferson contributed to form it in his day, and as it has been ever since, until a recent period a blessing to the whole people and to all mankind. [Applause.]

Gentlemen, I thank you for the very kind terms in which you made your communication, and I extend to you collectively and individually a most cordial

The committee and their friends then entered into a social conversation as to the prospects of the coming canvass, and remained a short time in the hospitable mansion of the Governor.

DEATH OF AN ESTIMABLE LADY .-The Camden Journal announces the death of Mrs. E. C. Kennedy, the wife of Gen. John D. Kennedy, who is well known to the citizens of Anderson. Mrs. Kennedy was a lady of uncommonly strong character, and universally beloved.

A Flower that Changes its Color. Botany is a division of natural science which treats of plants, and a study of Vegetable Phisiology must be the foun-dation of botanical knowledge—a study only possible by the improvements in the microscope and in organic chemistry. As plants are not scattered haphazard over the earth, botanical geography must be studied, and, with this, plant-history Botany will be applied to the wants every-day life, as in Agriculture, Horticulture, or Medical Botany. Animals often exhibit a marvelous instinct in selecting medicinal herbs, and an observa tion of their habits has often, even in the present time, led to most valuable discoveries. And should man, with his knowl edge and appliances, fail to discover less than the brute? It is of Medical botany we would speak, or of the HEPATINE PLANT, discovered in Southern Nubia the Flower of which changes its color with every change of the atmosphere. The remarkable changes and variations of this Plant and Flower have been for years our special study, resulting in the discovery of its possession of wonderful medical properties, the existence and value of which have heretofore been entirely unknown to medical science. After much labor and scientific investigation, we have succeeded in extracting its peculiar medicinal principles, which is a pecific and cure for all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels; a permanent cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Spleen, Constipation, Jaundice, and all Billious Complaints. Of course we can-not send a living Flower of this Plant to all who read of Hepatine; but to all who will send their address to MERRELL & COUDEN, Philadelphia, Pa,, with a threecent stamp for return postage, we will send FREE a fac-simile of the Flower, that will change its color just the same as the real Hepatine Flower.
